RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

2025 Theodicy, Theology, and Sexual Violence in the Coptic Orthodox Church
Conducting interviews with survivors, advocates, and Church representatives. This research study's focus is on competing theologies in response to clergy sexual violence within the church. I am the graduate student collaborator with Dr. Miray Philips. This project will be submitted to peer-reviewed journals.

2024 Sexual Misconduct Policies in the Canadian Armed Forces
Conducting interview with veterans of the Canadian Armed Forces. This research focuses on veterans' experiences of sexual misconduct as well as their knowledge of and experiences with sexual misconduct policies in the Canadian Armed Forces. I am the primary investigator for this project and will submit this research to peer-reviewed journals.

2024 Gender Based Violence in the Canadian Craft Beer Industry
Conducting interviews with women employees, brewers, and owners in the Canadian craft beer industry. This project investigates women's experiences in this creative masculine industry, experiences of gender-based misconduct/violence, and feelings of support and safety.

2024 Policing of Coercive Control in LGBTQ Relationships
Conducted a systematic scoping literature review on the policing of coercive control in LGBTQ+ relationships with Professors N. Zoe Hilton and Chris Smith, University of Toronto, Dana Radatz, Niagara University, Natalie Snow, Chiefs of Ontario and Elke Ham, Waypoint Centre for Medical Health Care. This project examined current knowledge on the policing of coercive control with a focus on 2SLGBTQQIA+ relationships. This article has been published in Sociology Compass.

2023 Gender-Based Violence and Coercive Control
Waypoint Research Institute and the University of Toronto

Research assistantship with Professors N. Zoe Hilton and Chris Smith, University of Toronto, Dana Radatz, Niagara University, Natalie Snow, Chiefs of Ontario and Elke Ham, Waypoint Centre for Medical Health Care. This project focuses on gender-based violence and examines current knowledge on coercive control in intimate partner relationships with a particular focus on the experience, measurement, and policing of coercive control in 2SLGBTQQIA+ relationships. My responsibilities include searching published and gray literature, conducting duplicate titles and abstracts screening, retrieving articles, rating article quality and extracting data and preparing a preliminary report of the results. This research has been published in Trauma, Violence, & Abuse.

ADVISING

Present Undergraduate Program Assistant
Department of Sociology, St. George Campus, University of Toronto

As the Undergraduate Program Assistant, I provide support for the undergraduate students in the Department of Sociology. I am the primary contact for undergraduate student inquiries including program requirements, graduate school, writing help, and general queries. In addition, I run the Department of Sociology Undergraduate Mentorship Program and work with the administration team to plan other undergraduate events and programs.
